Program

PE Robbie introduced Sue Pittman, who was here today as both the chair of our literacy committee and as the Vice President of the College Community Arts Council. Sue talked about a grant that is being processed through the district that will help fund book purchases for the jail, the Hospice library and for the public library

Sue and the literacy committee worked with Hospice to choose relevant and useful books on death and grieving. The public library has a duplicate set available as well.

With respect to the CCAC, Sue presented a power point presentation about the history and activities of the Council. It was formed in 1971 by students, faculty and community members at Wright

State University Lake Campus, to serve the counties served by the Lake Campus. It sponsors Kids Art Days, Cultural Days, and performances around the area. Sue thanked all those who have served on the board and supported the group by attending events and with financial support. The group is always looking for community members who want to join the board, and any financial support would go toward funding future work. One can find out more about the activities of the Council but checking out its website at www.lakeccac.com.
